- 2.1 Pages – .pdf files each corresponding to a page scanned from Sherwin-Williams paint brochures (“Desert and Southwest Style” and “Suburban Modern”).

Note: these scans will display the same visual colors as the identical colors on the SW web pages (<https://www.sherwin-williams.com/homeowners/color/find-and-explore-colors/paint-colors-by-collection/exterior-color-schemes>) on a given computer. The colors you see on the screen will not necessarily match the pamphlet colors exactly due to differences in the computer displays.

2.1.1 Groups – colors are arranged in groups

Each group consists of three complimentary color schemes per model home pictured in the brochure. Each group consists of 3 professionally-selected, complimentary colors:

body - the major color color of the entire house trim - the conventional trim around windows etc.
accent - usually doors and shutters.

The pamphlets show, three groups per house model and 2 house models per page or 6 color groups per page and 24 color groups for each brochure.

2.1.2 Lists –colors for each page of each brochure.

These lists are PDF documents that can be cut as text and pasted as desired. The SW color numbers and names are shown. However, the homeowner is not limited to SW but can and should go to almost any dealer and obtain exact color matches with another suppliers paint.

3 Rules for use:

- 3.1 Using the color palettes defined above, the homeowner can be reasonably confident that the colors will be approved by the ACC. The homeowner must adhere to the body, trim, and accent colors for that specific group
- 3.2 The application form must either:
Refer to the specific Sherwin-Williams paint color numbers, or
Be submitted with paint chips attached noting which are the body, trim, and accent
- 3.3 If the homeowner wishes to interchange the trim and accent colors for the group, he/she must provide a photograph of the house showing the locations where the colors will be applied
- 3.4 A homeowner can request to duplicate colors seen on another home in the Anatolia community but not listed here. The request must include a color photograph and address of the “sample” home.

- 3.5 The request will be denied if the owner of the “sample” home cannot show that the current colors were the original builder’s colors or were not approved by a previous application to the ACC.
- 3.6 Appeals for permits denied for not adhering to these rules must be made to the Anatolia HOA BOD as defined elsewhere.
- 3.7 In addition to the reference to the SW online pages, we will have copies of the brochures available at the clubhouse.
